OR PORTIONS FOR THE LORD'S HOUSEHOLD

James Smith

208 PAGES | CLOTHBOUND

~~$15.00~~ $12.00

A year-long daily devotional in a handy pocket-sized cloth-bound hardback format.

'My object', he said, 'is to lead the mind from self — to Jesus; from sin — to salvation; from troubles of life — to the comforts of the gospel.'

Each day, Smith selects a Bible text, or part of a text, for you to dwell on for a few moments — to see the central idea in the text. He then illustrates that truth with a short devotional poem that reveals the context of the text.

What Smith has given us is a true aid to the lost art of meditation. The golden nugget of truth that he releases from his text with his poetic commentary is expressed with such precision that it will stay with you for the rest of the day — something to think over and then apply to your life.

Marriage & Family

Texts That Transform: Marriage & Family

Terry Johnson

184 PAGES | PAPERBACK

~~$13.00~~ $10.40

Terry Johnson's series of four books provides explanations from the Bible's key texts that help us navigate our way through the wisdom of Scripture, keep us on track in both our personal spiritual growth and the life of the church, and renew our connection to God's intentions for our lives. Each book becomes your intimate, guided tour on a personal journey of discovery.

In this third book of the Texts that Transform series, Terry Johnson recounts his understanding of the place of family relationships in God's plan — a plan which not only transforms the domestic sphere but highlights the essential role of marriage and family in the Kingdom of God.

Pain of a Particular Kind

THE LOSS OF A CHILD

Peter Barnes

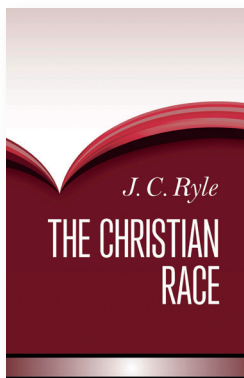

88 PAGES | PAPERBACK

~~$10.00~~ $8.00

There are few things which any parent dreads more than the thought of the death of their child or grandchild. The deaths of parents, friends, relatives, and even one's spouse are terrible indeed, but the death of one's child or grandchild possesses a peculiar kind of horror.

In four helpfully brief chapters, Peter Barnes draws on his own experience with losing a child, and caring for souls in similar circumstances as a pastor, to offer help to those who have suffered such a loss. He says,

'This is not a work of apologetics, but a brief attempt to understand and work through grief, for myself, my family, and for any other readers. It has only heightened the sense of my own need to receive comfort myself. Such comfort can only come from the God who is our creator and our redeemer. The hope remains that God will use this book to minister to and bless any of his people who have suffered the agony of losing a child.'

The Christian Race

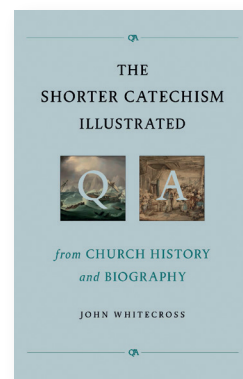

J. C. Ryle

320 PAGES | CLOTHBOUND

~~$30.00~~ $24.00

When J. C. Ryle announced he was to resign from the office of bishop of Liverpool, his friends encouraged him to publish a selection of sermons as a memorial to his sixty years of ministry, from country parson to diocesan bishop.

The title of the selection is taken from one of the sermons, and the themes covered by this selection will equip readers to run the Christian race with endurance through themes such as regeneration, saving faith, righteousness, the character and privileges of the true Christian, the character of Jesus Christ, and heaven. All serve to draw out the doctrinal teachings of the Scriptures, whilst applying those teachings to the practical realities of the Christian life. Readers familiar with Ryle will recognize in these sermons that same clarity of expression and practical wisdom which are a hallmark of his style.

The Shorter Catechism Illustrated

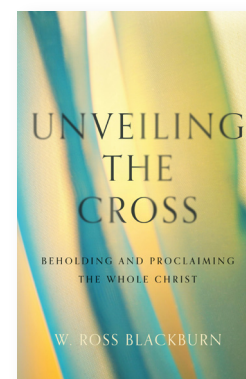

FROM CHURCH HISTORY AND BIOGRAPHY

John Whitecross

284 PAGES | CLOTHBOUND

~~$25.00~~ $20.00

The Shorter Catechism, created by the Westminster Assembly in the 17th Century, has grown to become a helpful guide to Christians across denominational boundaries. John Whitecross's illustrated companion, a kind of commentary on the catechism, stands out as a resource that helps to memorably teach it in a family, small group, or Sunday School setting. This book can also be recommended reading for those 10 years old and over. This helpful volume follows the doctrinal structure of the Shorter Catechism but expands each doctrinal point with a wide range of factual stories that illustrate and apply the catechism's teaching. Subjects are illuminated with telling, moving, and sometimes fascinating narratives. Whitecross's work has been gently modernized for a contemporary audience.

Unveiling the Cross

BEHOLDING AND PROCLAIMING THE WHOLE CHRIST

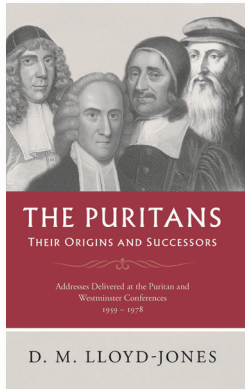

Ross Blackburn

272 PAGES | CLOTHBOUND

~~$30.00~~ $24.00

Ross Blackburn examines Isaiah's vision of the Lord, 'high and lifted up,' looking back in time from New Testament revelation. This memorable scene affected the prophet's life radically — but what did he understand of the One he saw on the throne? And how does this 'Day of Atonement' scene connect to other heavenly visions in the Bible?

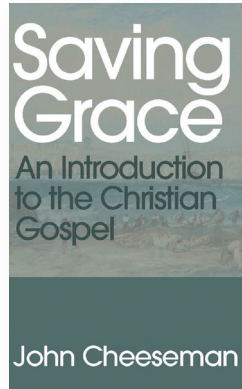

Blackburn discusses these questions and his treatment of Scripture is incisive and masterful. He magnifies the Christ of the cross, the Christ of the throne, and the Christ who intercedes for his people. You will not be able to encounter this Lord of Hosts and remain unchanged.

THEIR ORIGINS AND SUCCESSORS

AN INTRODUCTION TO THE CHRISTIAN GOSPEL

John Cheeseman

158 PAGES | PAPERBACK

~~$10.00~~ $8.00The Death of Death in the Death of Christ

John Owen

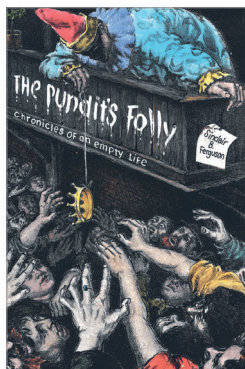

440 PAGES | PAPERBACK

~~$19.00~~ $15.20

One challenge with the resurgence of interest in the Puritans is . . . where to start!? Martyn Lloyd-Jones's well-researched biographical addresses were some of the most popular features of the conferences where he spoke — introducing people to the Puritan tradition from its origins in the Reformation to its successors in the nineteenth century. Written in an absorbing and stimulating style, Lloyd-Jones later adapted these addresses for a wider audience providing insight for the church today. Lloyd-Jones believed that the study of history is vital to the well-being of the contemporary church and draws lessons from major and minor Reformation, Puritan, and Great Awakening figures.

Aimed at addressing the real questions of young adults, Cheeseman answers the fundamental questions about saving faith — what really saves us? Who turns the key in the locked door of the human heart — is it God or man? The answer to this question has profound consequences for evangelizing the world with confidence and for living the Christian life without fear. John shows from Scripture that man's only hope is in the grace of God, that is, the grace of a God who actually does the saving and is the only true answer for those who can do nothing to save themselves... and that means everyone!

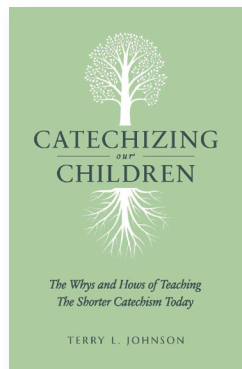

Owen wrote this polemical work to show that the doctrine of universal redemption is both unscriptural and ultimately destructive of the gospel. It is not a book for lazy thinkers who see no need for doctrinal exactness — or who find the title so shocking that they refuse to read it. Although the title of Owen's work famously uses the word 'death' three times, it is actually an amazingly positive work that gives hope to those despairing of assurance of salvation or who struggle to see God's intervention in this life. Owen will help you think through the issues that lead to the confident recovery of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

O. Palmer Robertson

72 PAGES | PAPERBACK

~~$8.00~~ $6.40

The writer of Ecclesiastes says that the world is a sea of glass: a pageant of fond delight, a theatre of vanity, a labyrinth of error, a gulf of grief, a sty of filthiness, a vale of misery, a spectacle of woe, a river of tears, a stage of deceit, a cage full of devils, a den of scorpions, a wilderness of wolves, a cabin of bears, a whirlwind of passions, a fabled comedy, a delectable frenzy; where is false delight, assured grief; certain sorrow, uncertain pleasure; lasting woe, fictive wealth; long heaviness, and short joy. Sinclair Ferguson makes a great guide to unwrap King Solomon's complex analysis of the meaning of life.

Communicating the faith to children is one of the greatest responsibilities of Christian parents. Father and pastor, Terry Johnson, shows how the Shorter Catechism is still of great help to parents facing this vital task. Generations of Christians have found it to be an effective way of raising children in the 'discipline and instruction of the Lord' (Ephesians 6:4); for not only does it provide a clear explanation of the gospel, but it is also one of the best introductions to what the Christian believes. Concise, brief, informative, and above all practical, Terry Johnson, will be a great help to parents, grandparents, pastors, and Sunday school teachers.

This Old Testament story has captured the imagination for centuries — telling of a prophet who disobeys God, a great fish that can swallow a man, a city-wide revolt in a pagan country, and a prophet sulking in the sunshine — but what does it mean?

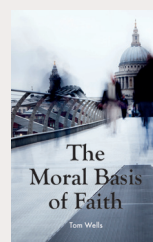

Dr O. Palmer Robertson's masterly knowledge of the Hebrew language comes to our aid. His vivid sense of the grace of God, the true state of the human heart, and his ability to retell historical events while highlighting their significance all combine to explain the real message of the book of Jonah — look out for the sting in the tail!

A Life of Principled Obedience

A. N. Martin

Explaining the words of Psalm 119:57–60, Martin expounds the essential elements of faithful Christian living. Bringing a lifetime of pastoral experience to bear on this important subject, Albert N. Martin explains the foundation on which an obedient Christian life is built, the context in which it develops and the blessing to which it leads. Profoundly challenging, this biblical teaching also points to the true freedom and joy of authentic Christian living.

~~$3.00~~ $2.40The Moral Basis of Faith

Tom Wells

The burning moral issue before each person is, 'What will you do with Jesus who is called the Christ?' No other question ranks with this one in importance for the soul. Many people say, 'Yes, I find Jesus attractive,' but their lives show that attraction is superficial — a moral obstacle keeps them from true faith. How can this moral obstacle be overcome? Tom Wells explains the Bible's own answer: God intervenes in his grace and gives men 'new birth'. He provides a careful and lucid explanation of salvation by grace through faith helping Christians, and those not yet Christians, to a clearer understanding of the Christian gospel.

Summer Reading Suggestions

Whenever someone asks for our recommendation for a good biography, we often say, 'Choose someone you have never heard of.' There are always reasons why people have a biography written about them — if you don't know the subject then you will always be surprised and blessed by those reasons if you choose to read about someone new to you.

The Works of Thomas Brooks

6 VOLUME SET

The definitive edition of The Works of Thomas Brooks, here reissued, was first published by James Nichol in 1866. It was edited by A. B. Grosart. Brooks' popularity lies both in his subjects — practical truths, central to the Christian life — and in the manner of his presentation. He is ever direct, urgent, fervent, full of Scripture and able to choose words which make his sentences as memorable as melodies.

The Works of David Clarkson

3 VOLUME SET

The three volumes of Clarkson's Works published in 1864-65 well illustrate his preaching powers. His expositions are characterized by faithfulness to biblical teaching, by careful analysis and exposition, and by copious application.

As a preacher, Clarkson expressed himself forcefully and memorably. These powers, happily married to a clear and logical mind, gave birth to sermons which are full of striking expressions and fruitful insights.

The Works of John Knox

6 VOLUME SET

For many years, clothbound sets of Knox's Works were virtually unobtainable by, and inaccessible to, the general public. To mark the 500th anniversary of his birth (probably in 1514) and the 150th anniversary of the completion of the first definitive edition of the Scottish reformer's Works (1846-64), these rare volumes were reprinted. Their continued availability provides a unique and remarkably affordable opportunity for a new generation of students to rediscover and get to know the real John Knox.

The Works of George Swinnock

5 VOLUME SET

George Swinnock is one of the easiest of the Puritan authors to read. He is theological yet his doctrine is expressed in vivid fashion and, while he is practical, his counsel is marked by a keen sensitivity to the doctrines taught in Scripture. The five volumes of The Works of George Swinnock were the last major reprint to be undertaken in 1868 by James Nichol in his definitive series of the leading Puritan authors. They have long been rare and unobtainable in the secondhand market.
